About Us

- Company Introduction

About Us

Headquartered in Huizhou City, in the China Greater Bay Area, iFlight benefits from direct access to the suppliers, raw materials, and young, creative talent pool necessary for sustained success. Drawing on these resources, we have grown from a single small office in 2014 to a global workforce. Today, iFlight's products are creating extreme FPV experiences with drones by going above and beyond what you think drones can do. Whether your passion lies in videography, entertainment, racing, freestyle flying, or education. Our platforms give you the power to create new experiences and empowering you to do more than you ever imagined possible with a FPV drone. At iFlight, we give these creators the tools they need to bring their ideas to life...

Motors / Propellers

Our XING series NextGen motors have become popular after the initial release in 2018 and became the new standard on the market. Was it the curved shape or the internal damping ring to protect the bearing, or was it the higher quality NSK bearings coupled with a higher grade titanium alloy shaft? We've been copied and compared all these years, but now it's time to set a new standard again! We're finally ready to announce our predecessor the XING2!
